National Grange Week Celebrated By Addison Junior Grange

The Addison Junior Grangers recently celebrated National Grange Week by placing posters and free calendars in the Public Library and the Addison Advertiser. April 16-22 was proclaimed Grange Week by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller. In making his annual proclamation, the Governor stated, "In the Empire State there are more than 80,000 members devoted to the aims of the Grange. They have cooperated to encourage education, to promote sound legislation and to provide leadership in community service and responsibilities. Moreover, the Grange has been effectively active in promoting the neighborly feelings which have made our state a closely knit community. The New York State Grange merits warm appreciation." Commemorating 1967 as the Grange Centennial Year, the U. S. Post Office issued a five cent, first class, postage stamp last week.

The Addison Junior Grangers conferred the degree last week at Caton and Hedgesville, to over 50 new members. Some of the recent new Addison members are Pam Ackerson, Vicki Pierson and Kathy and Mike Turner. The next regular meeting will be held Saturday, May 13 with Ruth Dinny, Linda Easton and Terry Clark in charge of refreshments. Ice cream sundae will be served with cookies.

The recent roller skating party was very successful and many thanks to all the loyal parents who drove. The next skating party will be May 11, Thursday, at Mansfield from 6:30-9 p.m. Cars will leave the Methodist Church at 5:30.

Senator Smith Addressed N. Y.-Penn Firemen

New York-Penn Volunteer Firemen Association met Thursday night, April 20 in the Addison Central High School cafeteria. Forty-two members representing 13 companies were present. Senator William Smith of Big Flats was the guest speaker.

President Wellington Ollinger of Corning presided. Assistant chaplain, George Curns of Horseheads opened the meeting with prayer. Chaplain Merriam Aber of Wellsburg was absent due to illness.

Addison Fire Chief Kenneth Ball welcomed the delegates and guests to Addison. Secretary Joe Lawlor of Horseheads read the minutes of the previous meeting. Application for membership from Goodyear Hose Company of Galeton, was read and voted on. The vote was unanimous for acceptance.

Under reports of committees, Donald Robinson of Gibson, Convention chairman said that all plans were on schedule. A full week of activity has been planned. The convention will be held in Big Flats the week of June 26.

Membership chairman Richard Cotton of Addison reported he was getting a better return on the individual membership tickets this year than last.

Under new business it was reported that Addison Volunteer Firemen will sponsor the King Brothers 3-ring Circus, Tuesday, June 20. It will be held at the Hunt's Circus Ground on Highway 17 at Erwin.

At the end of the business session president Ollinger introduced Senator Smith. The Senator in his talk gave his feelings on many issues. He said his re-apportioned district covers Steuben, Chemung, Tioga and Thompson Counties. An area of 28,000 square miles and 338,000 people. During the last session of the State Legislature, the Senator said he introduced 30 bills.

Senator Smith expressed concern on the increasing cost of Medicaid. Anyone with a net income of $6,000 may qualify for Medicaid. Eight million people will soon be included in Medicaid, the Senator said.

The controversial Compulsory Health Insurance bill was introduced in the senate during its last session. The purpose of this bill, the Senator said was to help with the increasing cost of Medicaid. There was so much opposition to the bill it died for lack of support.

Senator Smith reported that the people would get a chance to vote on the "Transportation Bond" issue. Money for the Southern Tier Freeway is included in the issue. Although New York City will gain the largest part of the revenue from the bond, the Senator feels the local district will lose a great deal if the issue is not passed. But he said the people will have a chance to make their wishes known by voting.

The New York State Senator feels that the predicted revenue from the State Lottery will not be realized. He expressed a hope that the schools will go slow in basing their budgets on the predicted 2 percent increase in State Operation Expense Aid, they are supposed to receive.

This year the State Budget will be around 4.7 billion dollars, according to the Senator. Sixty percent of the tax money, he said, comes back into the area where it was collected. The Senator concluded in saying that the State is spending a lot of money — on many things he does not agree with — but that the State is not wasting the taxpayers money. After the Senator answered questions directed to him from the floor, the meeting was adjourned.

Addison Police Investigate Accidents

Addison Police Chief Roy McConnell listed accidents investigated by his department during the past week. On the night of April 18 at about 11:15 p.m. David H. Calkins of Woodhull was driving his 1960 Vallant north on Route 17, turned into Water Street in Village of Addison and pulled into a parking lot. In backing he struck a water hydrant which was broken off. Chief McConnell, the investigating officer, said damage amounted to $175. There was no arrest.

On Friday, April 21, Chief McConnell investigated when Kenneth W. Snyder of RD Alfred Station, N. Y., driver of a 1963 Plymouth Suburban hit a 1966 Ford parked on Cleveland Street. Chief McConnell said Snyder hit the parked car in the rear, drove to the end of the street, turned around and hit the same vehicle in the front, continued on to the end of the street and was returning to hit the car a third time when stopped. The owner of the parked vehicle, Frank Wyncovone of Parsippany, N. J. and Snyder were taken to the police chief's office and questioned before Justice Frank N. Jones on a charge of reckless driving. Mr. Snyder paid a $25 fine and was released.

George Allen Perry of 3 Goodhue Street and John Aumick of Front Street were involved in an accident which occurred at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, April 22 which resulted in no personal injuries or property damages. Chief McConnell, the investigating officer, said no arrests were made and said that both drivers were going in the same direction on Maple Street when Perry stopped and then backed up. His vehicle was struck in the rear by the Aumick car.

Patrolman Walter Rice investigated the 12:15 a.m. accident which occurred April 22 near the Village line west of Addison. Mr. Rice said Arnold G. Christian of Woodhull was driving his 1957 Pontiac convertible east on Route 17 when he lost control. The vehicle veered to the left then crossed the road and went off the right side of the road taking out two guard rails and went down over a bank into a creek. Mr. Rice reported the vehicle suffered damage to the left front fender and door. The car was retrieved from the creek by Bill's Auto Service of Addison. Mr. Rice reported the driver was charged with imprudent driving and was fined $15.

With Profound Regret

By C. M. and Mildred Yongue

With this issue we, the Yongues, sever our connection with The Addison Advertiser and Woodhull Sentinel. We are turning the paper back to the seller. The future of The Advertiser is in his hands. We take this action with deep regret. We have enjoyed our stay in Addison. We have found the people very friendly.

In order for a paper to succeed it must function in a competitive position. This means the full support of the community by advertisers and subscribers to realize profits. Unfortunately there has been no profits. We no longer have the capital to continue. Hence we have no alternative but to take this action.

We sincerely thank those who have given us their support.

Recreation, Pollution Topics At Joint Chamber-Kiwanis Meeting

The second annual joint Addison Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club dinner meeting was held Monday evening in the First Baptist Church with 49 members, wives and interested persons attending.

Mrs. Lena McDermott, secretary, read the annual report which listed the various accomplishments of the Chamber, followed by the annual treasurer's report.

A Chamber committee reported it had done considerable work towards procuring a downtown parking area by procuring oral agreements from a sufficient number of merchants willing to purchase the former Laffakas building which recently housed the bakery. The committee noted that after the purchase was completed the Village Board would be approached with the view of dedicating the property to the Village and having the Village tear down the building, level and fill the area and light it for a parking area.

Ralph Swan of the Beartown Road, Painted Post spoke briefly on his search, in behalf of an interested group of individuals, for a suitable property for a recreational facility. He mentioned what was desired in the property needed and spoke glowingly on an area near Addison. The site he was interested in included The Pinnacle and had according to him the necessary view, northern exposure and variation of slopes for a skiing area, water at base for snow making facilities, natural gas available nearby. The area was wooded and camping areas, nature trails, sledding facilities and a 9-hole golf course could be constructed. He said the project was 100 percent financeable with a 40-year mortgage at five percent interest. All was needed was the formation of a corporation with a board of directors of responsible citizens to oversee the project and to sign up enough citizens willing to use the facilities if provided.

The land involved in the project, takes in parts of three farms and consists for the most part of hillside and wooded areas. Need for the area would be two ski tows, pond for snow and skating, tow for sledding and laying out of nature trails and a nine-hole golf course.

Tuscarora Firemen To Discuss By-Law Changes At May 1 Meeting

Darrell Robinson, president of the Tuscarora Volunteer Fire Department, has announced that a regular meeting will be held at 8 o'clock May 1 in the Freeman fire hall. A discussion will be held on by-law changes proposed at the April 17 special meeting. Plans for the August 17-18-19 old home days celebration will also be advanced.

Since the by-laws changes effect all members of the department, Mr. Robinson strongly urges that as many members as possible attend. It was brought up at the last meeting that residents who dial the fire number by mistake should not hang up before informing the fireman who answers that a wrong number has been reached. A round and square dance has been scheduled at Hand's trailer barn Saturday, April 29. Music will be provided by Walt Perkins and his "Night Hawks." Proceeds

Fresh Air Representatives Host Chairmen

Mrs. Clarence Anderson and Mrs. Ruth Hoffman, both of Olean, N. Y. were hostesses at a luncheon Thursday, April 20 at the Addison First Baptist Church for area Fresh Air chairmen. Mrs. Anderson is the district representative for the Fresh Air fund and Mrs. Hoffman is her assistant. Area chairmen attending the luncheon included Mrs. Charles Champlain of Addison; Mrs. William McCaig and Mrs. Clarence Risley of Rathbone.

Mrs. Champlain announced that two invitations have already been received for two New York City children to make return visits to their host families. The Gerald Chases of Addison, RD 2 and the Joseph Kelleys of Cameron Mills have each reinvented girls who visited here last year. The Charles Champlains have issued an invitation for a boy to visit them this summer. This is a new invitation.

Mrs. Champlain reminded families in the Jasper, Woodhull, Rathbone, Cameron, Cameron Mills, Freeman or Addison areas that they may invite children for visits at two different periods simply by contacting one of the area chairmen.

Invitations for the first vacation period must be in to the chairmen by May 10 so they may be reported to the Fresh Air office by May 15.

The Fresh Air Fund is marking its 90 year this June since the first child from New York City was invited to the rural area for a vacation away from hot city streets.

Addison Site Ideal For Recreation Area

Marynard Poray of the Farm and Home Administration office in Syracuse, was the main speaker at an informal meeting held in Addison Central School cafeteria, Tuesday evening, April 24.

The meeting was called for all interested persons of the area to hear Mr. Poray, Community Service Officer, explain how money can be obtained to back the formation of a recreation area in Addison.

Mr. Poray explained that the Farm and Home Administration was authorized to loan money to a non-profit membership corporation. Such a corporation cannot issue dividends. Its board of directors must be composed of at least two-thirds farmers or residents of a community with a population of less than 5,500. It must be under the full control of the community, Mr. Poray said. The corporation must have sufficient paying members to meet the operation cost of the project.

Ralph Swan of Gang Mills was instrumental in getting Mr. Poray to attend the meeting in Addison. Mr. Swan, with others interested in finding a place to ski near home, investigated sights in Chemung and Steuben Counties. They found the ideal spot, Mr. Swan said in his opinion, in Addison. It is in the area of The Pinnacle.

Mr. Poray advised the best way to start was to appoint a committee. The committee's job would be to survey the community to obtain their thoughts on the project. Such a project to qualify for the loan from the Farm and Home Administration should have the full support of the community.

Mr. Poray was accompanied to the meeting by John Clark, County Supervisor from Wellsburg. Mr. Clark will be available to work as an advisor to the committee, when and if the people decided to go through with the project.

After Mr. Poray left more informal discussion was had. At the suggestion of Milton Crane Mr. Swan, George Bonin, Village trustee and Gerald Dann, local farmer, were asked to serve on the committee. Ray Murray suggested that the presidents of the Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club should be on the committee. The committee members finally decided on are: Mr. Swan, Mr. Bonin, Mr. Dann, Lawrence Benedict, president of C. of C. and Donald White, president of Kiwanis.

The advantage of the registration in Bath is to those who plan vacations during the period of the local registration

Poor Children

Lack Contact

With Adults

One of the saddest limitations for children growing up in America today, especially the poor, is their lack of meaningful contact with a variety of adults, according to Prof. Otto Bronfenbrenner of the N. Y. State College of Home Economics, Cornell University.

The professor, a social psychologist in the department of child development and family relationships, said today's children are growing up in a suburban society where they are involved chiefly with friends of their own age and background.

For millions of children, he pointed out, the neighborhood is at best nothing but row upon row of matchbox houses, alike inside and out. Often the housing projects have no stores, no shops, no adults at work or play.

"This is the sterile world in which many of our children grow and this is the 'urban renewal' we offer to the families we would rescue from the slums," said the speaker.

It is this narrowing of the child's adult world that poses the most serious threat to his development, Prof. Bronfenbrenner emphasized.

"These families need the support and active involvement of their fellow men; they need a functioning community in which parents and children have a place together," he said.

Canned corn, lima beans and asparagus are likely to be the most attractively priced and to be featured on specials as the season progresses predicts Steuben County Extension Service.

The average number of milk cows in the United States in 1965 was a record low of 14,123 thousand, six percent below the 1955 average and 15 per cent less than the 1920-64 average.

Poison Ivy Warning

Poison ivy season is here again. You may have handled poison ivy last year and escaped without an itch, but don't push your luck, says a pamphlet from the American Medical Association.

Your next meeting with this pesky plant could take place in your own yard, as well as in the woods and fields. Poison ivy, oak and sumac have appeared in city gardens and poison ivy has been known to form a beautiful growth up the side of a house. Poisonous oils from these plants can come your way, in the smoke from a neighbor's burning trash or on your dog's coat.

If you can detect poison plants, you can often avoid them. Poison ivy and its close kin, poison oak, are three-leaved plants which may grow as low bushes or climbing vines. They may be mixed with honeysuckle and other climbers. Poison sumac, an eastern swamp plant with seven to 13 leaflets and small white berries, usually grows as a shrub.

If you have been exposed, carefully remove your clothes and thoroughly wash all affected areas with warm water and soap; then sponge with a 50 to 70 per cent alcohol solution. Using rubber gloves, clean your clothes in an oil solvent and soapy water. Then dry them in the sun.

Ivy, oak and sumac poisoning start with itching and redness within a few hours to several days after exposure. Then watery pimples appear. There is no cure for the big itch. Wet dressings of boric acid or Epsom salts solution bring some relief. Calamine lotion also reduces itching. Call your physician when the inflammation is extensive.

If you know that you will be near poison plants or working with them, have your druggist make a 10 per cent sodium perborate ointment and apply on exposed skin. After contact with the plant, wash off ointment and scrub all clothing — even shoes.

For the past 15 years, the annual per capita consumption of eggs has declined each year. In 1951 each person ate 293 eggs, while in 1965 the rate dropped to 233 eggs per person.

'Gateway' — The New Name

It's now Gateway!

That's the new name of the Methodist Home for Children. Williamsville, announced officially last night (April 25) at the agency's annual meeting in Christ Methodist Church, Snyder.

The Board of Managers of the Methodist Home for Children adopted the new name by unanimous vote on January 17. The corporate name, "Methodist Home for Children" will be retained for legal purposes.

In response to an appeal last fall in the agency's quarterly magazine, "Our Children's Home," 27 people submitted 38 names. Gateway was proposed by the poet, Evelyn Tooley Hunt of the Eden (N.Y.) Methodist Church.

Three years ago it was apparent that the institution needed a different name because of the change in its program of service.

"Gateway" has a professional staff and trains boys and girls for return to normal community living as soon as possible.

Spencer J. Allen, superintendent, urged friends of the institution to help promote and popularize the new name.

"Our hope is that many more boys and girls will pass through this 'Gateway' to a fuller life," he said.

Lawyers To Mark Law Day May 1

Many of the 100 local bar associations throughout the state will mark the 10th anniversary of Law Day on May 1 with special ceremonies that stress the importance of law and order.

J. Henry Neale, president of the 15,500-member New York State Bar Association, noted that many communities will honor out-standing citizens, sponsor essay contests, conduct open houses at courts and hear addresses by leading judges and lawyers on May 1.

"It is a time for us all to remember that in an orderly society each individual is responsible for upholding the law — at home, on the street, at work, as well as in the courts," Mr. Neale said.

In a proclamation, Governor Rockefeller reminded New Yorkers that it is the duty of citizens "to recognize our responsibility to uphold the law, the agencies of law enforcement and the courts in the performance of their obligations."

Theme for this year's observance is: "No man is above the law and no man is below it."
